JOB TITLE: Director of Engaged Learning
REPORTS TO: Senior Director of Partnerships, Policy, and Learning
FLSA STATUS: Exempt

POSITION SUMMARY:
The Director of Engaged Learning leads learning and evaluation strategies across The Denver Foundation, using the foundation’s Learning Framework. The position requires proven skills in developing and implementing strategies for assessing progress and impact and using strategic learning to help guide organizational improvement. Racial equity should be incorporated into all evaluation design, execution, and analysis.

RESPONSIBILITIES & ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS
- Execute the foundation’s Learning Framework
- Develop and administer surveys, conduct focus groups, and engage in other strategies to garner stakeholder feedback
- Review and aggregate data from grantee reports. Write and present aggregated reports to share the effectiveness and impact of grants and programs
- Support the foundation’s state and federal grant applications with expertise in evaluation and learning elements of submitted proposals
- Lead external partnerships with evaluation consultants on third-party evaluations
- Facilitate conversations to refine goals and strategies in conjunction with relevant stakeholders for various grant programs, donor initiatives, and the foundation’s strategic framework based on evaluation feedback
- Provide leadership and expertise around how to center equity in the process and outcomes of learning and evaluation practices
- With the Executive Team, facilitate the creation of a foundation-wide annual workplan and data dashboard, and ensure quarterly review of progress
- Contribute stories and editorial content about evaluation activities and outcomes for use in the foundation’s publications
- Forge relationships with the foundation’s staff and external stakeholders

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
- At least five years of proven success in experience supporting teams, organizations and/or initiatives in evidence- and impact-driven, social-sector environments such as community-based organizations; government agencies; consultancies; or philanthropic organizations
- Demonstrated experience in crafting evaluation and learning that informs organizational strategy
- Familiarity with aligning evaluation and learning with principles of equity
- Demonstrated experience with qualitative and quantitative research methods
